

Fast, credible news, data, and insights about China's electric vehicle industry.

Five years ago, just under one million electric vehicles were sold in China, the world's largest market for EVs. More than half of those EVs sold in China were ...

Over the past two years, Chinese electric vehicles (EVs) from companies like Xpeng, BYD, and MG have become a common sight on the streets of Finland, Stockholm and Oslo.

Analysts predict China's electric car market will see growth slow significantly in the year ahead.

More than 50 percent of the vehicles produced by Chinese OEM are electric. The most important sales market is the domestic market. In contrast, ...

Since 2023, China has been the largest passenger car exporter in the world. However, its market entry in the EU has been difficult so far: the stagnating new car market and hesitant ...

In 2025, nearly 400 electric vehicle models were for sale in China, more than double the number in 2019, according to JATO, an automotive market research firm.

Automobile marketshare for battery electric vehicles (BEV) in China reached 27% in 2024, compared to 13% in the EU and 8% in the US. To see if ...

China is rapidly expanding its footprint in the European electric vehicle market, leveraging a highly integrated value chain and strong government support. As Europe strives to meet its 2035 zero-ICE ...

Web: <https://kgangkologrp.co.za>

