

The U.S. Department of Commerce issued a final ...

Recent loopholes have led to increased imports from Southeast Asia. Recent Developments: American manufacturers have filed a petition for retroactive tariffs, seeking immediate ...

May 20 (Reuters) - The U.S. International Trade Commission determined on Tuesday that domestic solar panel makers were materially harmed or threatened by a flood of cheap imports from four...

In the post, Nick also explained why now is an important time to install solar panels because of the growth of AI data centers, which are driving up utility costs for homeowners.

US-based solar manufacturers have long sought a removal of the exemption for two-sided, or bifacial, solar panels. That product enabled module buyers to avoid a tariff imposed by ...

More than 20 Chinese photovoltaic firms have production bases across Southeast Asia as the region lured Chinese investments due to its cheap production costs, proximity to China and exemptions ...

US has opened investigations into solar panel products from Southeast Asia to block a well-trodden tariff workaround used by Chinese manufacturers.

What happens if the loophole remains? If the ITC does not publish a decision by 2 June, significant quantities of solar equipment stored in warehouses could enter [the US] tariff-free.

But the US announced a new round of tariffs in 2024 on solar panel imports from Malaysia, Thailand, Cambodia and Vietnam, in a bid to close loopholes exploited by China-owned firms

If the U.S. International Trade Commission (ITC) does not quickly publish its final determination in the antidumping/countervailing duty (AD/CVD) investigation affecting solar panels ...

The U.S. Department of Commerce issued a final determination Friday that manufacturers of solar panels imported from four Southeast Asian countries circumvented tariffs on ...

Web: <https://kgangkologrp.co.za>

